

Your Independence

is not merely a matter of being free to walk the streets, of voting periodically for what you think is right, of being permitted to worship and work as you please!

The man who progresses must be free—and to be free he must be prepared mentally and physically. You can't be free in every sense of the word when fear and dread over the present and the future, keep you chained to a daily life of virtual stagnation.

The men and women who make preparation in the form of building a sound financial foundation are placing the keystone in their arch of independence.

To those who seek complete independence, we tender our experience and assistance in banking matters.

It will be necessary for voters to register this fall, as the books will be closed which have been in use for four years. However, the law says that those who registered on primary day shall be entitled to vote at this election, so that their names should be copied into the new book, as well as all who make application to the city clerk to be registered between now and election. You will do well, despite this fact, to present yourself at your polling place on registration day and see that your name is in the book.

Every once in a while we run across a person who is under the impression that the publishers of newspapers print them with the object of giving them away. If these people were compelled to pay for print paper at the present rate, to say nothing of rollers, ink, labor and the other expenses that go into the printing of a newspaper, we venture the assertion that they would soon change their opinion. There is no good reason why a publisher should give away his paper any more than there is for a merchant to give away his merchandise.
